

Commitment to Sustainable Development

GIM has been working on various projects related to sustainability for over a decade. The launch of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in 2015 motivated GIM to strengthen its commitment to sustainability. GIM has SDGs in its teaching, research, and organizational practices. GIM has two dedicated centres which work on various goals of sustainable development and facilitates the institute to contribute to the Agenda 2030.

Centre for Social Sensitivity and Action (CSSA) - focuses on social sustainability and community engagement. CSSA collaborates and engages with international institutions such as the UN PRME (Principles for Responsible Management Education), UN Global Compact, UN SDSN and several other foundations. CSSA coordinates and facilitates GIM to align its activities to the various SDGs.
